

MIAMI, FL, December 12, 2008 /24-7PressRelease/ -- From white sand beaches to exciting Mayan ruins and myriad of thrilling activities, Mexico is a true paradise for every outdoor enthusiast. Its endless stretch of coastline invites to every water spot imaginable including snorkeling, surfing and fishing. Apart from dreamy sundrenched beaches, Mexico also draws thousands of history fans who visit this country to discover its early civilizations and numerous archaeological sites.

Those who would like to go farther and discover Central America, should visit Nicaragua. Bordered by Honduras and Costa Rica, Nicaragua is a diverse and beautiful country that lures tourists with its scenic Pacific coast, sparkling lakes and tropical rainforests. This largest country of Central America is a true paradise for nature enthusiasts who love to watch exotic birds, hike through the coffee fields and relax on the scenic beaches. Nicaragua's steaming volcanoes and national parks create numerous opportunities also for those who enjoy adventure.

After adding up the costs of airplane tickets, hotels and entertainment, a trip to Mexico or Nicaragua may seem a luxury not everyone can afford. If planned with time, however, there is a possibility to lower some of those costs significantly. On Rentalo.com, a premier lodging directory which links travelers with property owners, one can find numerous accommodation options in Mexico and Nicaragua at very reasonable prices.
